

Bennett again heads FSHS cheerleaders

• Again FSHS has begun the school year by electing a new set of cheerleaders to lead the yells and pep up the student body. This year, for the first time in several years, three distinct results came out of the voting.

Ann Bennett, the senior with the largest number of votes, 900, was elected head cheerleader for the second consecutive year. A new rule this year has been applied to the election of cheerleaders in that only a senior can be elected head cheerleader.

Receiving the largest number of votes, 971, was Linda Kaye Westmoreland, junior, who was a cheerleader last year. Susie Pryor, senior, a cheerleader for the past two years, was third high.

THE SISTER TEAM of Sondra Brown, senior, and Charlotte Brown, sophomore, came next. Sondra was an alternate cheerleader last year, and Charlotte was head cheerleader at junior high.

Ann Bell, sophomore and also a former junior high cheerleader, was next. Ancel Ruth Farmer, senior and an alternate cheerleader last year, serves as a regular now. Four votes separated the last two cheerleaders, Nancy Gail Arnold and Carol McCartney, both juniors.

Play tryouts next week

• Tryouts for the annual Sock and Buskin play "Magnificent Obsession" to be given November 11, will be held next week in the auditorium. Tryouts are for any member of the organization.

For the first time in several years a drama is being presented.

A committee composed of Kay Farris, Joan Holt, Julie Orr, Claudette Schock, Katherine Brocchus and Danny Efurd selected the play, which is adapted from the novel of the same name by Lloyd C. Douglas with dramatization by Frank Vreeland.

Besides the actual cast, Sock and Buskin members will have charge of make-up, costumes, sets and all other many phases of play production.

KATHERINE BROCCCHUS, Sock and Buskin president, has released the following list of new members selected from tryouts held early this month: Bill Needham, John Gossett, Johnny Ward, J.D. Sagely, Barry Hon, Danny Stephens, Bill Hawthorne, Raymond Moore, Casey Jones, Bob Stoddard, Buddy Evans, Bill Acord, Ann Wilson, Patsy Price, Nancy Gail Arnold, Linda Kaye Westmoreland, Jane Davidson, Shirley Windsor, Marilyn Marrs, Jacqueline Gallaher, Marilyn Crawford, Kaye Ward, Norma Ledbetter, Peggy Crane, Ann Hutsell, Marilyn Powell, Dorothy Elam, Marilyn Sharp, Ramona Stubblefield, Pat Orsburn, Linda Harrison, Mary Beth Taylor, Shirley Anderson, Ann Matlock, Ann Bennett and Ann Ellefson.

Music classes elect new officers; John Kolb is president of chorus

• Officers who were recently elected in Miss Edna Earle Massey's music classes are as follows:

Mixed chorus: John Kolb, president; Eileen Farris, vice-president; Shirley Windsor, secretary; Claudette Rapp, treasurer; and Howard Bass, business manager. Accompanists are Ann Wilson and Sally Putnam.

BEL CANTO glee club: Beatrice Angel, Kay Kolb, Martha Powers, Alice Boone, Emmaline Graham and Myra Riddle.

Sophomore girl's glee club: Louetta Bennett, Dixie Weir, Sally Moss, Betty Ireland, Wilma Downum and Judy Yadon.

Boy's glee club: Johnny Richardson, Bill Krone, Charles Ledbetter, Neil Collier. Jan Taylor and Sue Graves are the accompanists.

• WHILE KAY FARRIS, center, president of Allied Youth, explains the principles of AY, Martha Rose, left, joins. Lance King, right, a member, looks on. The membership drive ended this week.

THE GRIZZLY

Volume 31

Fort Smith, Arkansas, September 20, 1954

No. 1

• NEW FSHS cheerleaders are Nancy Gail Arnold, Charlotte Brown, Ann Bennett, Sondra Brown and Carol McCartney, front row. Ann Bell, Linda Westmoreland, Susie Pryor and Ancel Farmer, back row.

Bill Barksdale is Bruin editor

• For the first time in two years, two boys hold the highest positions on the Bruin staff, and strangely enough, both are named Bill. Bill Barksdale is editor and Bill Needham is business manager.

Other members of the yearbook staff include Stokely Hays, assistant business manager; Julie Orr and Sylvia Nelson, underclassmen; Ann Eubanks and Nancy Kenney, organizations; Shirley Windsor and Anna Ruth Murphy, seniors; Claudette Schock and Kay Farris, features; Raymond Spruell and Ann Ellefson, artists; Jean Jones, athletics; Claudette Rapp, Calline Prince and Carol Sue McKinney, typists.

"More seniors applied for the staff this year than in others," Miss Pauline Poynor, sponsor, said. "However," she added, "the Bruin will be dedicated to the sophomores because very few seniors have had their pictures made."

Library club members repair used textbooks

• "We're small, but mighty," said Mrs. Cora Hall, FSHS librarian, in reference to the Student Librarians Club, of which she is sponsor. The club, one of the newest organizations in FSHS, has already sponsored one of the many projects planned for the year.

The sale of used textbooks began the first day of school and netted the club a good profit, according to Elizabeth Baker, president. Currently the club is engaged in repairing textbooks.

Council officers and committees named

• Organizing and planning for a full year, to be climaxed by being host to the Arkansas Association of Student Councils convention in April, is keeping the FSHS student council busy.

This year's council is headed by Bob Anderson and Marilyn Powell, student body president and vice-president respectively.

Other officers include: Anna Ruth Murphy, recording secretary; Nancy Kenney, corresponding secretary; Bill Barksdale, treasurer; Patsy Price, parliamentarian; and Marilyn Crawford, reporter.

FOR MORE EFFICIENT operation the council is divided into seven standing committees.

The social committee includes Frances McShane, Sallie Meek, Ann Patton, Phoebe Speer, Carol McCartney, Paul Jorden and Ann Matlock, chairman.

Bill Barksdale, as treasurer, heads the finance committee. Other members are Ann Patton and David Knox. Among the other duties of this committee is the selling of programs at FSHS home football games.

THE CLUB COMMITTEE, headed by John Gossett, makes

Columbian projects announced for year

• "I feel certain that this year will go down as the best in Columbian history," said Patsy Price, president, regarding Columbian plans.

Shining trophies, acting as hostesses in the Green Room, selling concessions for football games, decorating the office at Christmas, supplying clothes for a needy girl, entering a float in the homecoming parade, and promoting a Bruin-signing party are on the Columbian agenda for the school year.

SUSIE PRYOR and Marilyn Crawford are in charge of the pamphlet "Famous Women of Arkansas", a main project of the club.

Anna Ruth Murphy, Sharon Nelson, Mrs. Edna Grigsby and Henry Nicholson are on a committee to judge the best club assembly of the year. Each year a trophy is presented by the Columbians to the club giving the best assembly.

Ann Whalen was in charge of the fourth annual "Get Acquainted Week", also a project of the Columbians. Joan Holt, Peggy Crane and Susie Pryor served on her committee.

a periodical check on the point system. Other members are Nancy Gail Arnold, Pat Young, Louanna Hill and Mary Beth Taylor.

Grady Secrest is chairman of the building committee, which will see that the buildings and campus are kept neat and attractive. Others are Sally Putnam, Billy Fred Fort and Clyde Willey.

Parliamentarian Patsy Price is chairman of the constitution committee. This committee will see that the student council constitution is kept up to date and will have charge of all school elections. Other members are Nancy Gail Arnold, James Fox, Boley Powers and Susie Wiggins.

THE SPORTSMANSHIP committee distributes the sportsmanship ratings of the Big Seven schools. This committee, headed by Shirley Windsor, is composed of Susan Barnsley, Grady Secrest and Nancy Kenney.

Marilyn Powell, heads the assembly committee, whose chief function is to plan the assembly schedule in order to provide more

Ellefson and Brown lead Pep Squad for '54-'55

Ann Ellefson will head the FSHS Pep Squad for '54-'55. Other officers are Sondra Brown, vice-president; Susie Pryor, secretary; and Doris Ann Baggett, treasurer.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Nora Brown, the club will attend three out-of-town ball games—Little Rock, Hot Springs and Fayetteville.

Athenians plan literary project as major activity of the year

• Under the new leadership of Marilyn Marrs, president, and Mrs. Fannie B. Tirey, sponsor, the Athenian Literary Society has laid plans for the school year. In keeping with their name, the society plans a literary project, book reviews and a program for every other meeting.

Other new officers are Linda Krone, vice-president; Calline Prince, recording secretary; Zenda Sue Bridges, corresponding secretary; Jean Jones, treasurer; Shirley Windsor, parliamentarian; Carol Griffie, reporter; and Ann Patton, historian.

COMMITTEES appointed by the new president are as follows: Float: Sissy Beall, chairman, entertaining and educational assemblies. Also serving on this committee are John Gossett, Marilyn Crawford, Barry Hon, Linda Kaye Westmoreland and Susie Pryor.

"We'll be asking everyone for help," said Mrs. Hallie Beth Thackaberry, student council sponsor. "We want to be host to a successful and enjoyable convention."

Griffie heads Grizzly staff

• Carol Griffie will head the Grizzly this year as editor in its thirty-first year of publication, with advanced journalism students completing the staff.

The following will serve on the editorial staff: clubs, Mary Beth Taylor; features, Marilyn Crawford; columnist, Louise Turner; exchange editor, Mary Ostler; copy reader, Claudette Schock; proofreader, Mary Beth Sitz; typist, Sharon Hundley; staff photographer and business manager, Jim Newton.

The following are responsible for the printing of the Grizzly shop foreman, Paul Johnson; safety foreman, Bob Goldman; hand composition, Bill Goodfellow, Leonard Lester; machine composition, Paul Johnson, Ralph Blansett, Larry Braden; pressroom, Don Bates, Gerald Roberts; strip-caster, Bob Goldman; stockroom-bindery, Don Boyles.

Zenda Bridges, Sylvia Nelson, Carolyn Quoss and Ann Patton.

Ways and means: Carol Griffie, chairman, Jean Jones, Ann Patton and Nan Reese.

Assembly: Nancy Gail Arnold, chairman, Claudette Rapp, Carol Sue McKinney and Ann Wilson.

CORA SUE McFERRAN IS in charge of getting pins for the society.

A complete revision of the constitution and of installation and initiation ceremonies has been done by a committee of Carol Griffie, chairman, Nancy Gail Arnold, Sylvia Nelson, Emma Jo Brown and Mary Nelle Henson.