

Students named by seniors for Bruin 'who's who in FSHS'

• SENIORS, who will form the Bruin Who's Who, a special section of the yearbook, have been announced by Miss Wilma Jimeron, sponsor of the senior class, and Miss Pauline Poynor, sponsor of the Bruin. The seniors were nominated November 3 and elected Tuesday by the senior class.

Who's Who members are as follows:

Best all-around girl—Shirley

Librarians Club has observance

• SKITS in observance of Book Week will make up a special assembly to be presented by the FSHS Student Librarians Club November 19. Mrs. Evelyn Holt, dramatics instructor, will direct the assembly, and Mary Lee McBride will be the narrator.

A committee for the assembly is Frances Quinn, Janet Crouch and Betty Scherer.

MRS. CORA HALL, sponsor of the club, and Mary Lee McBride, vice-president of the FSHS club and also the state organization, recently attended the state librarians convention in Little Rock.

Three clubs to present panel discussion on TV

• THREE FSHS CLUBS will present television programs as a part of the KFSA-TV schedule in the coming two weeks.

In connection with American Education Week, Future Teachers of America will present a panel discussion tomorrow at 4 p.m. entitled "Should you plan to be a teacher for tomorrow?"

STUDENTS planning the program are Mary Beth Sitz, Ann Hutsell, Shirley Lilly and Wenda Sue Johnson.

Surveyors study both the ins and outs of school

• WHAT'S COMING OFF? Why are all these strangers walking in the halls and looking over the classrooms? Well, here's the "inside story."

FSHS has been, and will continue to be for an indefinite time, turned upside down, inside and out, by a group of educators, headed by Dr. Roosevelt Basler as co-ordinator, who are surveying the school system.

On invitation by the Fort Smith public school board, this group from the Peabody Teachers College in Nashville, Tennessee, will make a comprehensive study of all the schools, including the Negro schools and possibly the

Math teacher receives dedication of directory

• RECEIVER of the student directory dedication this year is Henry Nicholson, mathematics instructor, according to John Gossett, chairman of the directory committee.

This award, made annually, is given by the Key Club.

On the TV schedule for Tuesday is the Library Club, appearing in observance of Book Week. Those who will present a panel discussion are Elizabeth Baker, Wanda Cates, Janet Crouch, Virginia Erwin and Mary Lee McBride.

Junior Red Cross will present the program November 23. John Mott, Carol Griffiee, Ann Patton and Stokely Hays will give a discussion on JRC activities.

DR. BASLER, accompanied by Emol Falls, Marvin Sterett and Miss Elizabeth Rader, arrived in Fort Smith October 24. In addition to discussions with key personnel, the team interviewed principals, teachers, parents and students in FSHS in order to gain an over-all look at the system.

Next week Dr. Solon B. Suduth, Dr. Irvin Wolfe and Dr. Lawton Gore will arrive to study the areas of health, physical education, science, music and vocational education.

"The survey we are conducting," said Dr. Basler, "is not an in-

Julie Orr, left, is talking to John Gossett. Lying on the couch is Joan Holt, and gazing at her are Kay Farris, Earl McClendon, Patsy Price and Bill Needham.

'Magnificent Obsession'

Sock and Buskin presents play

• "MAGNIFICENT OBSESSION" by Lloyd C. Douglas will be presented tonight at 8 p.m. in the auditorium by members of Sock and Buskin. Leading roles will be portrayed by Julie Orr, senior, and Earl McClendon, junior.

"We think we have a production that Sock and Buskin and the entire school will be proud of," said Claudette Schock, student director.

SUCH a production, however, does not come easily, but is achieved only by hard work, according to Mrs. Evelyn Holt, dramatics instructor and Sock and Buskin sponsor, who, along with the cast and production crew headed by Danny Efurud, have spent innumerable afternoons and many evenings in preparation for tonight.

Juniors announce date for all-school party

• PLANS are being made by the junior class for an all-school dance and party to be held in the gym November 24.

Susan Barnsley is chairman of the planning committee. Others are Jean Secrest, Don Gartman and Ronnie Brumley.

"Further plans will be announced later this month," said Susan.

vestigation, but is an effort by the Division of Surveys and Field Services to provide clear-cut recommendations for the local community with respect to immediate and long range planning for school needs."

THE OBJECT of the surveyors precisely, is to take an intimate look at the instructional program and also the over-all program, teachers, retirement, finance, and extra-curricular activities. They will view the schools from an impartial viewpoint and then offer recommendations in order that the Fort Smith schools will be increasingly effective.

Students plan trip to AY conference

• FOR THE FOURTH consecutive year FSHS will be represented at the International Allied Youth conference to be held next week at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania. Planning to attend this year's meeting are Kay Farris, AY president, Katherine Brochus and Doug Davenport.

Held annually at the Buck Hill Falls Inn, the conference features such outstanding personalities in youth work as Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Dr. John Van Dyke, Dr. Daniel A. Polling, founder of AY, and Mr. J. C. Penny, chairman of the board of trustees. Jamey Saunders, international youth chairman and now a student at Texas A and M College, will preside at this year's meeting.

The FSHS group will leave Saturday morning on one of the two chartered buses from the Southwest District of AY. This caravan of members will include students from Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma along with those from Arkansas.

A day of sight-seeing in New York City will include visits to Staten Island, Empire State Building and the Statue of Liberty. From there the group will travel into Canada to see Niagara Falls and then on to Buck Hill Falls for the conference, which will begin Thursday evening and close Saturday night.

Meeting, visit

PTA open house is next Tuesday

• A HIGHLIGHT of the year for the FSHS Parent-Teachers Association program, open house will be held Tuesday evening following the regular meeting scheduled for 7:30. Teachers will be in the classrooms in order that parents may meet them and have an opportunity to become acquainted with the school. Open house is held annually in connection with the November meeting.

The program for the evening will be a panel discussion in the form of a town meeting on the subject "The physical needs of Fort Smith Senior High School." Jerry Heilbron, lawyer, will serve as moderator. Other members of the panel will be Chris D. Corbin, superintendent of schools, Owen Pearce, member of the school board, Mrs. Charlie Jones, representing parent, R. Earl Farnsworth, principal, and Carol Griffiee, editor of the Grizzly.

"WE HOPE that many parents will attend, as we feel it will be a most interesting and helpful evening," said Mrs. C. C. Collier, vice-president of the association.

The class with the highest percentage of parents present at the meeting will be awarded a $5 prize.

Past activities of the association during the year have included co-sponsoring the homecoming party and a membership drive.

JRC sponsors annual assembly

• CLIMAXING their membership drive beginning next Monday, the Junior Red Cross will sponsor their annual assembly Wednesday.

As in the past, the program will be a variety show based on some phase of JRC work. The theme of the show is connected with a training center held each summer at Camp Petit Jean, Arkansas, and was written by Carol Griffiee. On the committee to select talent are Stokely Hays and Ann Patton.

THOSE who will appear on the program are Jean Jones, Tony Council, Verna Peerson, Eddie Green, Benny Wallace and Buddy Shippey, Charlotte Riggs, Nancy Gail Arnold and Jane Patterson.

Windsor receives honor as DAR 'good citizen'

• ONE of the most coveted of FSHS honors goes this year to Shirley Windsor, who has been selected the DAR Good Citizen for 1954-55.

This award, given annually by the Daughters of the American Revolution to some senior girl, has been announced by Miss Opal Horn, dean of girls.

Shirley was chosen from three girls nominated by the senior council and elected by the faculty for outstanding qualities of service, leadership, patriotism and dependability. As FSHS good citizen she will be eligible for the state award of $100.

Other girls nominated were Marilyn Powell and Patsy Price.

SHIRLEY is well-known for her work in student council as past junior class president and senior class president this year. As a junior she was elected to the seat of county judge in the mayor for a day contest and was also a homecoming maid. Her many other activities now include serving as treasurer of Allied Youth, parliamentarian of the Athenians, Bruin staff member, vice-president of the mixed chorus and production crew member of the Sock and Buskin play.

• "I WONDER what it will be like there?" asked one of the delegates to the student council convention being held now in Jackson, Mississippi, as they looked over material on both the state and local student council work before they left. Left to right are Ann Patton, Grady Secrest, Louanna Hill, Mrs. Hallie Beth Thackaberry and David Knox. All are FSHS delegates.
