

Sock and Buskin selects cast, crew for comedy

• "TIME OUT FOR GINGER," a comedy by Ronald Alexander, will be presented February 24 as the second production of the year by Sock and Buskin, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Holt.

Cast members selected from tryouts January 12 are as follows: "Ginger," Jacque Gallaher; "Agnes Carol," Claudette Schock; "Howard Carol," John Gossett; "Joan," Marilyn Powell; "Jeannie," Shirley Windsor; "Lizzie," the maid, Ann Ellefson; "Eddie Davis," Bob Haynes; "Tommy Green," Bill Hawthorne; "Mr. Wilson," Buddy Evans; and "Mr. Ed Hoffman," J. D. Sagely.

CO-DIRECTORS are Danny Efurud and Julie Orr. Raymond Moore is production manager.

Production committees include the following: lights—Casey Jones, set—Bill Acord, chairman, Earl McClendon, Bob Stoddard, Shirley Anderson, Ann Wilson, Linda Kaye Westmoreland, Jane Davidson and Barry Hon; properties—Peggy Crane, chairman, Joan Holt, Anne Matlock, Ann Hutsell, Dorothy Elam and Danny Marrs, chairman, Marilyn Sharp and Ann Bennett; make-up—Katherine Brocchus, chairman, Patsy Price and Nancy Gail Arnold.

Bill Needham is business manager. Business committees are as follows: tickets and programs—Romona Stubblefield and Mary Beth Taylor; publicity—Pat Orsburn. Marilyn Crawford is prompter.

THIS IS the first time in several years that Sock and Buskin has presented two plays. The plot of "Time Out for Ginger" is concerned with the antics of the three daughters—Joan, Jeannie and Ginger—of Agnes and Howard Carol. This play, which has been given the best of notices from critics, has just recently been released for presentation by amateur groups.

"We promise you an evening of delightful entertainment," said Katherine Brocchus, president of Sock and Buskin. "This play is one of the cutest comedies available and we think that students as well as adults will enjoy it very much."

Rev. Williams to give talk for devotional

• THE REVEREND William Williams, minister of the Calvary Baptist Church, will be guest speaker at the regular monthly devotional program tomorrow. There will be two assemblies.

Music to be provided by the boys glee club will include "Come, Thou Almighty King," "Ain't Going to Study War No More," a spiritual, "Lord of the Morning," and "Come, O, Jesus." Music is under the direction of Miss Edna Earle Massey.

13 mid-term grads to leave

• THIRTEEN FSHS students make up this year's mid-term graduating class, according to the official list as the Grizzly goes to press.

Although several others are expected to be added, names have been turned in so far by only Mary Lou Aldridge, Oma Jo Dean, Sue England, Mary Lee McBride, Norma Whitlege, Jean Bynum, Carol King, June Turner, Nancy Hawkins, Jackie Meier, Roy Jean Law, Phillip Martin and Bob Goldman.

MARRIAGE, work and college make up the principal reasons for graduating at mid-term.

Three of the girls, Jean Bynum, Norma Whitlege and Carol King, are planning to join their husbands who are in the service.

Although several are planning on college later, only Bob Goldman has made definite plans for the coming semester. He expects to enroll in the Fort Smith Junior College for morning classes and to continue working afternoons in the FSHS print shop.

John R. Powers will choose most beautiful girl of FSHS

• CARRYING on the tradition of the Bruin for another year, FSHS Bruin beauties are again to be featured, chosen this time by John Robert Powers of Powers Modeling Company of New York, according to announcement by Bill Barksdale, editor.

Girls elected to represent their respective classes are Jan Wilkerson and Eileen Farris, seniors; Linda Kaye Westmoreland and Lynn Lambert, juniors; and Jackie Sanders and Susie Wiggins, sophomores.

OTHERS NOMINATED by the senior council for this honor were Sondra Brown, Anna Ruth Murphy, Kay Farris, Marilyn Powell, Doris Ann Baggett, Marilyn Marrs, Joyce Phillips, Margaret Coleman, Linda Krone, Ann Bennett and Nancy Kenney.

The junior council also nominated Kay White, Frances McShane, Sharon Nelson, and Carol McCartney.

There were approximately 20 girls nominated for this honor from the sophomore class, two of whom were then picked by vote of the council. Nominated were Gail Smithson, Louanna Hill, Gay Clapp, Annette Vogel, Linda Bassett, Inez Wallis, Betty Sue Barnard, Jerri Lloyd, Eleanor Webb, Jane Ann Ward, Coretta Bury, Nikki Ward, Ann Rodgers, Joy Ann Sawyer, Jane Patterson, Sally Putnam, Kaye Mitchell and Alice Retta.

CEP group refinishes furniture

No. 7

Campaign bustle is over; Cutting, Taylor win

by Marilyn Crawford
• ANOTHER CAMPAIGN has become a memory. Hard work, sleepless nights, homework left undone, all are ended now that the posters have been taken down and the votes counted—leaving the two victorious candidates, Tom Cutting, president, and Mary Beth Taylor, vice-president of FSHS.

The traditional installation ceremony will be held tomorrow, preceding the devotional assembly. R. Earl Farnsworth, principal, will present the gavel to Tom, and Bob Anderson and Marilyn Powell last semester's student body officers, will retire.

FORGET? How could any student of FSHS forget this past election? With four candidates seeking the vice-presidency and two the presidency, the majority of the students took a stand for at least one of the candidates. The air of competition was in the air. All the candidates were well qualified and worthy of the offices but only two could win. Perhaps that is why election week this year was more exciting than usual, for there was a sincere desire to run a fair race—but at the same time a winning one.

Proof of this enthusiasm can be found in these statistics: In the election a total of 1065 votes was cast. Of the total membership in the senior class 75 per cent voted, 64 per cent of the Staff changes are announced

• HENRY NICHOLSON, math instructor, has been appointed to succeed Gerald Fisher, dean of boys and assistant principal, at the close of this semester, according to R. Earl Farnsworth, principal.

Mr. Fisher is leaving FSHS to take a job with the Vocational Rehabilitation, a division of the State Department of Education.

COACH JOHN LUNNEY is also leaving at the close of the semester to take a position with the Harding Glass Company. Since Mr. Lunney has not yet been replaced, the driver education classes next semester will be suspended.

junior class voted, and 73 per cent of the sophomores voted—the largest vote ever cast in any FSHS election. Tom polled 765 votes, and Mary Beth was victorious with 333 votes.

OTHER CANDIDATES and campaign managers, listed respectively, were: John Gossett, Shirley Windsor; Ann Patton, Gary Wisener; Eileen Farris, Anne Matlock; Patsy Price, Linda Kaye Westmoreland. Tom's campaign manager was Jim Hatfield, and Mary Beth's, Johnny Ward.

Tom is a member of both the Key Club and the F Club. His honors include being a Boys State delegate, being elected to the Who's Who as "Most popular boy" and being selected for the Hall of Fame. Recently he was named all-Big 7 quarterback, representing the Grizzly football squad.

MARY BETH is club editor on the Grizzly staff, a member of the senior council and of the student council. She was also elected to attend Girls State.

Seniors elect Barksdale for Thom McAn contest

• FSHS will be hoping for another national winner of the annual Thom McAn Success Awards contest in Bill Barksdale, senior, who was recently elected to write the contest essay on the subject "What Success Means to Me."

Last year Bill Keltner received a $250 scholarship for placing third in the national contest with his essay on the same subject. As part of the awards, FSHS received a full year's prepaid subscription to the History Book Club.

NOMINATIONS for this honor were made by the senior council and then voted on by the senior class. The four other boys nominated to be the most successful in their chosen vocation and as citizens were John Gossett, John Kolb, John Mott and James Wear.

First place award is a $1,000 scholarship at the college or university of the winner's choosing, or, if no higher education is planned, a $1,000 defense bond plus a one-week, all-expense trip to Washington, D. C. Other prizes awarded are smaller scholarships or bonds.

BESIDES being Bruin editor, Bill is a member of the Bruin Who's Who, as "boy most likely to succeed," and the Hall of Fame. His other activities include the Key Club and the student council.

New members named to Quill and Scroll

• QUILL AND SCROLL, the smallest organization in FSHS, will increase its membership from three members to five when Louise Turner, senior, and Jim Newton, junior, are initiated into the club, an international honorary society for high school journalists.

The new members will be honored at an initiation buffet supper to be held at Carol Griffee's home, 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. Also attending the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. R. Earl Farnsworth, Miss Hazel Presson, club sponsor, Marilyn Crawford, Carol Griffee, Mary Beth Taylor, present members of the organization, and other members of the journalism classes.

Em-Rose elects officers, plans initiation service

• BEGINNING their program for the second semester, the Em-Rose fellowship has elected new officers: Romona Stubblefield, president; Cynthia Payne, vice-president; Ruth Ann Narramore, secretary; Claudine Snow, treasurer; and Eleanor Carter, sergeant-at-arms.

Installation will be at the home of Cynthia Payne at 7 p. m. tomorrow.

College Board examination is March 12

• SENIORS, March 12 is the date to take the College Board Entrance Examination—but, there is more to this statement than that fact.

Students expecting to take the examination must apply and turn in their fee of $12 before February 19. Late applications will be honored until March 5, upon payment of an extra $3.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test, the general test, will be conducted from 9 to 12 a. m. That afternoon the achievement one-hour tests will begin at 2 p. m. A maximum of three hours of afternoon tests may be taken. Subjects of one-hour tests include English composition, chemistry, biology, physics, intermediate mathematics, advanced mathematics, social studies, French reading, German reading, Spanish reading, and Latin reading.

THIS EXAMINATION is given to test the student's ability and academic preparation. Students taking the test are not expected to answer all the questions. Guess work will not prove profitable in the College Board Entrance Examination, for one-fourth of the number of wrong answers will be subtracted from the number of correct answers.

Young people in Alaska, Argentina, Brazil, Canada, Canal Zone, Cuba, England, France, Germany, Greece, Guam, Guatemala, Hawaii, Hong Kong, India, Iran, Israel, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Korea, Lebanon, Mexico, Netherlands, West Indies, Okinawa, Philippines, Puerto Rico, Switzerland, Venezuela and the Virgin Islands are taking this same test.

ANY FSHS STUDENT interested in applying for a scholarship or seeking admission to a college should obtain information about the foundation or college regarding the College Board Entrance Examination, since many colleges and foundations have this requirement for applicants.
